Runway 12L and 12R Departure Analysis

Key Takeaways

- Overall departure activity is very consistent across the June 2023–2026 analysis period.
- Flight locations and altitudes are also highly consistent, with no clear shift in how aircraft are departing Runways 12L and 12R.
- Differences in aircraft type and destination mix can affect aircraft performance, sound characteristics, and how operations are perceived on the ground.
- While the overall departure patterns are very consistent, variations in individual flights may still contribute to noticeable differences on the ground.
